1. INTRODUCTION

GST is payable on supply of goods or services. A supply consists of elements that can be separated in time, like purchase order / agreement, despatch (of goods), delivery (of goods) or provision or performance of service, entry in the records, payment, and entry of the payment in the records or deposit in the bank.

So, the question that arises is - at what point of time in the aforesaid transaction, the becomes payable? Does it become payable when or services is made, or when the goods are shipped or when the invoice is issued or when payment is shipped over a period of time? What if the service is provided over a period of time?

GST

Point in time
when the liability
to pay tax arises

Provisions relating to 'time of supply' provide answers to all such and other questions that arise with respect to the time when the liability to pay CGST and SGST/UTGST (intra-State supply) or IGST (inter-State supply) arises. In other words, time of supply indicates the point in time when the liability to pay tax arises. It is important to note here that though the liability to pay tax arises at the time of supply, the same can be paid to the Government by the due dates prescribed with reference to the said 'time of supply'. For instance, if time of supply of a given supply is 25th May, the tax leviable thereon would be payable latest by 20th June, which is the due date prescribed in the CGST Act for suppliers filing GST return on monthly basis.¹

The CGST Act provides separate provisions for time of supply for goods and services vide sections 12 and 13 respectively. Section 14 provides for the method of determining the time of supply in case there is a change in the rate of tax on supply of goods or services. Sections 12 and 13 employ provisions of section 31 relating to issue of tax invoice as a reference point. Therefore, it will be useful to read this Chapter in conjunction with the provisions relating to tax invoice discussed in detail in Chapter 9: Tax Invoice, Credit and Debit Notes in Module 2 of this Study Material.

Events like issuing of invoices, receipt of payment, provision of service, receipt of services as recorded in books of account need to be analysed to determine the time of supply when the tax on supply is payable under forward charge. When the tax on supply is payable under reverse charge, events like date of receipt of goods or services, date of making payment, date of issue of invoice etc. need to be analysed to determine the time of supply. The provisions relating to time of supply essentially fix the tax collection event to the earliest possible time.

In the subsequent pages of this Chapter, sections 12, 13 and 14 are extracted, followed by their analysis, to understand how to determine the time of supply of goods and services respectively. When studying the statutory provisions, the definitions (extracted first) must also be referred to simultaneously, so as to understand the precise meaning of the terms used.

Provisions of time of supply under CGST Act have also been made applicable to IGST Act vide section 20 of the IGST Act.

³ It may be noted that the Finance Act, 2025 has omitted the provisions relating to time of supply of vouchers. Provisions of the Finance Act, 2025 have not become effective as on the date of printing of this Study Material. Once the said amendment comes into effect, students will no longer be required to study the provisions relating to the time of supply of vouchers.

Section 12 must be read with section 31, which prescribes in detail the date on which tax invoice for a supply of goods must be issued in various situations.

Section 12 provides for the determination of time of supply in the following situations:

- Supply of goods under forward charge;
- Supply of goods under reverse charge;
- Supply of vouchers that can be used to pay for goods;
- Residual cases
- Addition to value of supply of goods by way of interest or late fee or penalty for delayed payment.

We consider below how the time of supply is determined in each of these situations.

(i) Time of supply of goods under forward charge [Section 12(2) read with section 31]

As per section 12(2), the time of supply of goods that are taxable under forward charge, is the earlier of the following two dates:

- Date of issue of invoice by the supplier or the last date on which the invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31, to the extent the invoice covers the supply of goods; or
- Date of receipt of payment by the supplier, to the extent the payment covers the supply of goods.

No tax payable at the time of receipt of advance for supply of goods – Special procedure for payment of tax in case of supply of goods

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 148⁴, the Central Government, on the recommendation of the GST Council, has issued Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017 to specify that a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) should pay GST on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a), i.e. date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31, including in the situations attracting the provisions of section 14.

In simple words, all taxpayers under forward charge (except composition suppliers and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) are not required to pay GST at the time of receipt of advance in relation to supply of goods. The entire GST shall become payable only when the invoice for the supply of such goods is issued or ought to have been issued. Thus, time of supply of goods for the purpose of payment of tax is the date of issue of invoice or the last date when the invoice ought to have been issued under section 31.

⁴ Section 148 provides that the Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, and subject to such conditions and safeguards as may be prescribed, notify certain classes of registered persons, and the special procedures to be followed by such persons including those with regard to registration, furnishing of return, payment of tax and administration of such persons. The same is discussed in Chapter 24 - on Miscellaneous Provisions of Module 3 of this Study Material.

The relief of not paying GST on receipt of advance is available only in case of supply of goods and not for supply of services.

Meaning of “Date of receipt of payment”

“Date of receipt of payment” in the above situation refers to the date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the entity (supplier of goods) that receives the payment, or the date on which the payment is credited to the entity’s bank account, whichever is earlier.

Significance of “to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply of goods”

Suppose a part of the consideration is paid in advance or invoice is issued for part payment, in such cases the time of supply will not cover the full supply. The supply shall be deemed to have been made only to the extent it is covered by the invoice or the part advance payment.

However, it may be noted that in case of goods (except for composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims), tax is payable only on the basis of issuance of invoice/last date for the purpose of issuance of invoice even if any advance or part payment has been received before the issuance of invoice/last date for the purpose of issuance of invoice.

(1) A Ltd. enters into an agreement with B Ltd. to supply 100 kg of raw material. However, A Ltd. supplies only 80 kg of raw material and issues the invoice for the same.

Here, the supply would be deemed to have been made in respect of 80 kg of raw material, i.e. to the extent covered by the invoice. Therefore, the provisions relating to time of supply will only be applicable to supply of 80 kg of raw material and not for entire 100 kg of raw material.

The provisions relating to time of supply of goods as contained in section 12 in case of forward charge read with Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017, have been depicted by way of a diagram given at a subsequent page.

Time limit for issuance of invoice for supply of goods under section 31

Section 12(2) refers to the last date on which a supplier is required to issue the invoice under section 31. Following are the relevant provisions of section 31 in this regard:

- As per section 31(1), the invoice needs to be issued either before or at the time of removal of goods (where supply involves movement of goods) or delivery of goods/ making goods available to recipient (in any other case).
- In case of continuous supply of goods, the invoice should be issued before or at the time of issuance of periodical statement/receipt of periodical payment [Section 31(4)].

Continuous supply of goods is a supply of goods provided or agreed to be provided continuously or on recurring basis, under a contract, and for which the supplier issues an invoices to the recipient on a regular or periodic basis and includes supply of such goods as the Government may, subject to such conditions, as it may, by notification, specify [Section 2(32)].

The said term has been discussed in Chapter 9: Tax Invoice; Credit and Debit Notes in Module 2 of this Study Material.

- In case of goods sent or taken on approval for sale or return, invoice should be issued before or at the time of supply or 6 months from the date of removal, whichever is earlier [Section 31(7)].

(2) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 10th June. The invoice for the same is issued on the same day. Payment for the goods is received on 20th June.

Time of supply of goods for the purpose of payment of tax is 10th June being the date of issue of invoice in terms of section 31.

(3) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 10th June. The invoice for the same is issued on 10th June. Payment for the goods is received on 5th June.

Time of supply of goods for the purpose of payment of tax is 10th June being the date of issue of invoice in terms of section 31.

TIME OF SUPPLY OF GOODS UNDER FORWARD CHARGE AS PER SECTION 12

Date of issue of invoice / Last date of issue of invoice under section 31

Date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the supplier [presently irrelevant for the purpose of payment of tax]

Date on which the payment is credited to the supplier's bank account [presently irrelevant for the purpose of payment of tax]

SPECIAL PROCEDURE⁵ FOR PAYMENT OF TAX IN CASE OF GOODS

GST to be paid at the time of supply

As specified in section 12(2)(a)

Date of issue of invoice / Last date of issue of invoice under section 31

Effectively, in case of goods, no GST is payable at the time of receipt of advance for supply of goods.

⁵ under section 148 of the CGST Act

(4) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 10th June. The invoice for the same is issued on 12th June. Payment for the goods is received on 20th June. Time of supply of goods for the purpose of payment of tax is 10th June being the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31.

(5) B Ltd. enters into a contract with C Ltd. for supply of goods over a period of one year starting from the month of January. As per the contract, C Ltd. makes payment on 10th day of each month. B Ltd. issues the invoice on the same day. Time of supply of the goods for the purpose of payment of tax will be 10th day of each month.

(6) B Ltd. sends goods to C Ltd. for sale on approval basis on 10th January. C Ltd. approves the goods on 15th August. B Ltd. should issue the invoice on 10th July as the supply gets fructified after six months from the date of removal. Time of supply of the goods for the purpose of payment of tax is 10th July being the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31.

Excess payment upto ₹ 1000: Option of taking invoice date as time of supply

In terms of the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 12, for a payment of up to ₹ 1,000 received in excess of the value of the goods invoiced, the supplier can choose to take the date of invoice issued with respect to such excess amount as the time of supply of goods for such excess value. Since GST on supply of goods is payable only on the basis of issuance of invoice⁶, this provision is practically irrelevant for supply of goods.

If neither the date of invoice nor the date of payment is available, the time of supply is determined in terms of the residual provisions under sub-section (5) of section 12 [discussed under point (iv)].

⁶ as per Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017

(ii) Time of supply of goods under reverse charge [Section 12(3)]

The time of supply of goods on which GST is payable on reverse charge basis under sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 9 of CGST Act is determined in terms of section 12(3)(a), (b) and (c), as follows:

Goods supplied under reverse charge

The time of supply for such goods will be the earliest of the following dates:

- Date on which the goods are received, or
- Date on which payment is recorded in the books of account of the recipient, or the date on which the same is debited in his bank account, whichever is earlier, or
- Date immediately following 30 days from the date of issue of invoice (or document by some other name in lieu of invoice) by the supplier.

If it is not possible to determine the time of supply by using these parameters, then the time of supply will be the date of entry of goods in the books of account of the recipient of supply.

The provisions relating to time of supply of goods in case of reverse charge are depicted by way of a diagram given at a subsequent page.

The relief of not paying GST at the time of receipt of advance is available only in case of supply of goods, the tax on which is payable under forward charge. In case of reverse charge, GST is payable at the time of payment, if payment is recorded/made before receipt of goods (advance payment).

(7) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 4th June. The goods are taxable under reverse charge. Invoice for the same is issued on 4th June. C Ltd. receives the goods on 12th June.

C Ltd. records the payment in the books of account on 30th June and the same is debited from the bank account of C Ltd. on 2nd July.

Time of supply of the goods is 12th June being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely:

- date of receipt of goods,
- date of payment and
- date immediately following 30 days of issuance of invoice.

(8) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 4th June. The goods are taxable under reverse charge. Invoice for the same is issued on 4th June. C Ltd. receives the goods on 6th July.

C Ltd. records the payment in the books of account on 21st July and the same is debited from the bank account of C Ltd. on 31st July.

Time of supply of the goods is 5th July being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date of receipt of goods, date of payment and date immediately following 30 days of issuance of invoice.

(9) B Ltd. sells goods to C Ltd. on 4th June. The goods are taxable under reverse charge. Invoice for the same is issued on 4th June. C Ltd. receives the goods on 27th June.

C Ltd. records the payment in the books of account on 10th June and the same is debited from the bank account of C Ltd. on 2nd July.

Time of supply of the goods is 10th June being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date of receipt of goods, date of payment and date immediately following 30 days of issuance of invoice.

TIME OF SUPPLY OF GOODS UNDER REVERSE CHARGE

If it is not possible to determine the time of supply through above parameters,

THEN

TIME OF SUPPLY WILL BE

Date on which goods are recorded in the books of account of the recipient of supply

(iii) Time of supply of vouchers exchangeable for goods⁷ [Section 12(4)]

As commonly understood, vouchers are instruments that can be exchanged as payment for goods or services of the designated value. As per the definition, vouchers are instruments, that certain persons (potential suppliers) are obliged to accept as consideration, part or full, against supply of goods and/or services. The instrument or its related documentation sets out the terms and conditions of use, the goods and/or services covered, and the identity of the potential suppliers of such goods and/or services.

As per section 12(4), the time of supply of vouchers exchangeable for goods is-

- Date of issue of the voucher, if the supply that it covers is identifiable at that point, or
- Date of redemption of the voucher in other cases.

The provisions relating to time of supply of vouchers exchangeable for goods are depicted by way of diagram given below.

TIME OF SUPPLY OF VOUCHERS EXCHANGEABLE FOR GOODS

⁷ It may be noted that the Finance Act, 2025 has omitted the provisions relating to time of supply of vouchers. Provisions of the Finance Act, 2025 have not become effective as on the date of printing of this Study Material. Once the said amendment comes into effect, students will no longer be required to study the provisions relating to the time of supply of vouchers.

(10) A Ltd. sells food coupons to B Ltd. The company gives these coupons to its employees as part of the agreed perquisites. The coupons can be redeemed for purchase of any item of food /provisions in the outlets that are part of the program.

As the supply against which the coupon will be redeemed is not known on the date of the sale of the coupon, the time of supply of the coupon will be the date on which the employee redeems it against food / provision items of his choice.

(11) With each purchase of a large pizza during the Christmas week from Perfect Pizza, one can buy a voucher for ₹ 20 which will be redeemable till 5th Jan for a small pizza. As the supply against which the voucher will be redeemed is known on the date of issue of the vouchers, the time of supply is the date of issue of the voucher.

(iv) Time of supply of goods in residual cases [Section 12(5)]

If the situation is not covered by any of the provisions discussed above, the time of supply is fixed under sub-section (5) of section 12, in the following manner:

- Due date for filing of the periodical return, or
- In any other case, date on which GST is paid.

TIME OF SUPPLY OF GOODS IN RESIDUAL CASES

Where a periodical return is to be filed

TIME OF SUPPLY IS THE DATE ON WHICH RETURN IS REQUIRED TO BE FILED

OTHER CASES

TIME OF SUPPLY IS THE DATE ON WHICH GST IS PAID

(v) Time of supply in case of enhancement in value on account of interest/late fee etc. for delayed payment of consideration [Section 12(6)]

Commercially, most of the contracts of supplies stipulate payment of interest/late fee/penalty etc. in case of payment of consideration beyond the agreed time period. Such interest/late fee/penalty etc. is includable in value of taxable supply [This concept has been discussed in detail in Chapter 6 - Value of Supply in this Module of the Study Material]. So, the point to consider here is that when the liability to pay GST would arise in such cases of addition in value.

Section 12(6) prescribes that time of supply in case of addition in value on account of interest/ late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration for goods is the date on which the supplier receives such addition in value.

(12) A Ltd. sold goods to B Ltd. on 6th June with a condition that interest @ 2% per month will be charged if B Ltd. failed to make payment within 15 days of the delivery of the goods. Goods were delivered as also the invoice was issued on 6th June. B Ltd. paid the consideration for the goods on 6th July along with applicable interest.

Time of supply for the goods sold is the date of issue of invoice, i.e. 6th June and the time of supply for addition in value by way of interest is the date when such addition in value is received by A Ltd., i.e. 6th July.

INTEREST OR LATE
FEE FOR DELAYED
PAYMENT OF CONSIDERATION

The provisions relating to time of supply of goods as contained in section 12 are summarised in the diagram given on next page.

Chapter VI: Tax Invoice, Credit and Debit Notes of CGST Rules

Rule 47	Time limit for issuing tax invoice
	The invoice referred to in rule 46, in case of taxable supply of services, shall be issued within a period of thirty days from the date of supply of service: Provided that where the supplier of services is an insurer or a banking company or a financial institution, including a non-banking financial company, the period within which the invoice or any document in lieu thereof is to be issued shall be forty five days from the date of supply of service:

Provided further that an insurer or a banking company or a financial institution, including a non-banking financial company, or a telecom operator, or any other class of supplier of services as may be notified by the Government on the recommendations of the Council, making taxable supplies of services between distinct persons as specified in section 25, may issue the invoice before or at the time such supplier records the same in his books of account or before the expiry of the quarter during which the supply was made.

Rule 47A

Notwithstanding anything contained in rule 47, where an invoice referred to in rule 46 is required to be issued under clause (f) of sub-section (3) of section 31 by a registered person, who is liable to pay tax under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of section 9, he shall issue the said invoice within a period of thirty days from the date of receipt of the said supply of goods or services, or both, as the case may be.

ANALYSIS

Section 13 must be read with section 31 and rule 47 and 47A of CGST Rules, which prescribe in detail the date on which tax invoice for a supply of service must be issued in various situations.

Section 13 provides for the determination of the time of supply in the following situations:

- Supply of service taxable under forward charge,
- Supply of service taxable under reverse charge,
- Supply of vouchers that can be used to pay for services,
- Residual cases,
- Addition to value of supply of services by way of interest or late fee or penalty for delayed payment.

Below we shall consider these in detail.

(i) Time of supply of services under forward charge [Section 13(2) read with section 31 and rule 47 of CGST Rules]

For supply of service on which the supplier is liable to pay tax, the time of supply will be the earlier of the dates arrived at by methods (A) and (B), as follows:

- (A) Date of issue of invoice or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is issued within the time prescribed under section 31;
- (B) Date of provision of service or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is not issued within the time prescribed under section 31,

If the above two methods [(A) and (B)] are not applicable, the time of supply will be the date on which the recipient of service shows receipt of the service in his books of account.

Meaning of “date of receipt of payment”

“Date of receipt of payment” in the above situation refers to the date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the supplier that receives the payment, or the date on which the payment is credited to the supplier’s bank account, whichever is earlier.

Significance of “to the extent the payment covers the services”

Suppose a part of the consideration is paid in advance or invoice is issued for part payment, the time of supply will not cover the full supply. The supply shall be deemed to have been made to the extent it is covered by the invoice or the part payment and time of supply shall be determined accordingly.

The provisions relating to time of supply of services in case of forward charge can be depicted by way of a diagram given hereunder.

Time limit for issuance of invoice for supply of services under section 31

The criteria to determine the time of supply of services depend upon whether the invoice is issued within the time prescribed under section 31.

Following are the relevant provisions in this regard:

- As per section 31(2) read with rule 47, the tax invoice needs to be issued either before the provision of service or within 30 days (45 days in case of insurance companies/ banking companies/ financial institutions including NBFCs) from the date of supply of service.
- In case of insurance companies/ banking companies/ financial institutions including NBFCs/ telecom companies/ notified supplier of services making taxable supplies between distinct persons as specified in section 25⁹, invoice may be issued before or at the time of recording such supply in the books of account or before the expiry of the quarter during which the supply was made [Second proviso to rule 47].
- In case of continuous supply of services, the invoice should be issued either:
 - (i) on/ before the due date of payment - where the due date of payment is ascertainable from the contract or
 - (ii) before/ at the time when the supplier of service receives the payment - where the due date of payment is not known
 - (iii) on/ before the date of completion of the milestone event - where the payment is linked to completion of an event [Section 31(5)].

Continuous supply of services are provided, or agreed to be provided, continuously or on recurrent basis, under a contract, for a period exceeding 3 months with periodic payment obligations and includes supply of such services as the Government may notify [Section 2(33)]. The said term has been discussed in Chapter 9: Tax Invoice; Credit and Debit Notes in Module 2 of this Study Material.

⁹ Concept of distinct persons has been discussed in Chapter 1: Supply under GST in this Module of the Study Material.

- In case of cessation of supply of services before completion of supply, the invoice should be issued at the time when the supply ceases to the extent of the supply made before such cessation. [Section 31(6)].

Cessation of supply of services

Clarification on time of supply in respect of supply of services of construction of road and maintenance thereof of National Highway Projects of National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) in Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) model¹⁰

Issue: Under the Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) model of National Highways Authority of India (NHAI), the concessionaire has to construct the new road and provide Operation & Maintenance of the same which is generally over a period of 15-17 years and the payment of the same is spread over the years. What is the time of supply for the purpose of payment of tax on the said service under the HAM model?

Clarification: Under the Hybrid Annuity Model (HAM) of concession agreements, the highway development projects are under Design, Build, Operate and Transfer model (DBOT), wherein the concessionaire is required to undertake new construction of Highway, as well as the Operation and Maintenance (O&M) of Highways. The payment terms for the construction portion as well as the O&M portion of the contract are provided in the agreement between National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) and the concessionaire.

A HAM contract is a single contract for construction as well as operation and maintenance of the highway. The payment terms are so staggered that the concessionaire is held accountable for the repair and maintenance of the highway as well.

Single contract

¹⁰ Circular No. 221/15/2024 GST dated 26.06.2024

The contract needs to be looked at holistically based on the services to be performed by the concessionaire and cannot be artificially split into two separate contracts for construction and operation and maintenance, based on the payment terms. The concessionaire is bound contractually to complete not only the construction of the highway but also to operate and maintain the same.

In HAM contract, the payment is made spread over the contract period in installments and payment for each installment is to be made after specified periods, or on completion of an event, as specified in the contract. The same appears to be covered under the 'Continuous supply of services' as defined under section 2(33).

Accordingly, as per section 13(2) read with section 31(5), time of supply of services under HAM contract, including construction and O&M portion if the invoice is issued on or before the specified date or the date of completion of the event specified in the contract, as applicable, would be EARLIER of the following dates:-

Invoice is issued on or before the specified date

- (a) date of issuance of such invoice, or
- (b) date of receipt of payment

However, in cases, where the invoice is not issued on or before the specified date or the date of completion of the event specified in the contract, as per section 13(2)(b), time of supply should be EARLIER of the following dates:-

Invoice is NOT issued on or before the specified date

- (a) date of provision of the service (i.e., the due date of payment as per the contract), or
- (b) date of receipt of payment.

In case of continuous supply of services, the date of provision of service may be deemed as the due date of payment as per the contract, as the invoice is required to be issued on or before the due date of payment as per the provisions of Section 31(5) of CGST Act.

It is also clarified that as the installments/annuity payable by NHAI to the concessionaire also includes some interest component, the amount of such interest shall also be includable in the taxable value for the purpose of payment of tax on the said annuity/installment in view of the provisions of section 15(2)(d) of the CGST Act, 2017¹¹.

(13) A Ltd. provides services to B Ltd. on 10th June. A Ltd. issues the invoice for the services on 15th June. Payment is received in the bank account of A Ltd. on 20th June and is recorded in the books of account of A Ltd. on 30th June.

Date of receipt of payment is 20th June being the earlier of two stipulated dates namely, date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the supplier and date on which the payment is credited to the supplier's bank account.

Since the invoice is issued within 30 days from the date of supply of service, time of supply of services is 15th June being the earlier of the two stipulated dates namely, date of issuance of invoice and date of receipt of payment.

(14) A Ltd. provides services to B Ltd. on 10th June. A Ltd. issues the invoice for the services on 7th July. Payment is received in the bank account of A Ltd. on 20th June and is recorded in the books of account of A Ltd. on 30th June.

Date of receipt of payment is 20th June being the earlier of two stipulated dates namely, date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the supplier and date on which the payment is credited to the supplier's bank account.

Since the invoice is issued within 30 days from the date of supply of service, time of supply of services is 20th June being the earlier of the two stipulated dates namely, date of issuance of invoice and date of receipt of payment.

¹¹ Section 15 shall be discussed in detail in Chapter-6: Value of supply of this Study material.

(15) A Ltd. provides services to B Ltd. on 10th June. A Ltd. issues the invoice for the services on 15th July. Payment is received in the bank account of A Ltd. on 20th June and is recorded in the books of account of A Ltd. on 30th June.

Here, invoice is not issued within 30 days of provision of service. Therefore, time of supply of services is 10th June being the earlier of the two stipulated dates namely, date of provision of service and date of receipt of payment.

Excess payment upto ₹ 1000: Option of taking invoice date as time of supply

In terms of the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 13, for a payment of up to ₹ 1,000 received in excess of the invoice value, the supplier can choose to take the date of invoice issued with respect to such excess amount as the time of supply of services in relation to this excess value. In other words, if advance upto ₹ 1,000 is received with respect to any services, GST is not payable at that stage; GST will be payable when invoice is raised. This provision facilitates the supplier to defer payment of tax on small amounts typically received by him in excess of the invoice amount.

This provision has been made as in case of monthly/periodical bills like telephone bills or electricity bills, customers often pay slightly higher amounts than bill amounts. It would have been very cumbersome to pay GST on such petty advances and adjust them later, as legally, 'receipt voucher' is required to be issued under GST when advance against services is received.

(16) A telephone company receives ₹ 5000 against an invoice of ₹ 4800. The excess amount of ₹ 200 can be adjusted against the next invoice.

The company has the option to take the date of the next invoice as the time of supply of service in relation to the amount of ₹ 200 received in excess against the earlier invoice.

(ii) Time of supply of services taxable under reverse charge [Section 13(3)]

The time of supply of service on which GST is payable on reverse charge basis (except on services received from associated enterprises located outside India) under sub-sections (3) and (4) of section 9 is determined in terms of section 13(3)(a) and (b) and (c) as follows:

The time of supply for such service will be the earlier of the following:

- Date of payment, or
- Date immediately following 60 days from the date of issue of invoice (or any other document in lieu of invoice) by the supplier, in cases where invoice is required to be issued by the supplier
- Date of issue of invoice by the recipient, in cases where invoice is to be issued by the recipient.

If it is not possible to determine the time of supply by using these parameters, then the time of supply will be the date of entry of the service in the books of account of the recipient of supply.

Meaning of “Date of payment”

“Date of payment” in the above situation refers to the date on which the payment is recorded in the books of account of the recipient of service, or the date on which the payment is debited from the recipient’s bank account, whichever is earlier.

Date of payment

Time limit for issuance of invoice by recipient for supply of services in case of reverse charge mechanism [Section 31(3)(f) read with rule 47A]

Where an invoice referred to in rule 46 is required to be issued under section 31(3)(f) by a registered person, who is liable to pay tax under section 9(3)/(4), he shall issue the said invoice within a period of 30 days from the date of receipt of the said supply of goods and/or services, as the case may be.

Thus, invoice is to be issued within a period of 30 days from the date of receipt of the said supply of goods and/or services, as the case may be.

Clarification on time of supply of services of spectrum usage and other similar services under GST¹²

Under the spectrum¹³ allocation model followed by Department of Telecommunications (DoT), bidder (the telecom operator) bids for securing the right to use spectrum offered by the Government. Here, service provider is the Government of India (through DoT) and service recipient is the bidder/telecom operator. The GST is to be discharged on the supply of spectrum allocation services by the recipient of services (the telecom operator) on reverse charge basis¹⁴.

In case where full upfront payment is made by the telecom operator, GST would be payable when the payment of the said upfront amount is made or is due, whichever is earlier.

In case where deferred payment is made by the telecom operator in specified installments, same shall be considered as 'continuous supply of services' as defined under section 2(33), since the supply of services (spectrum usage) is agreed to be provided by the supplier (DoT) to the recipient (telecom operator) continuously for a period which is exceeding three months with periodic payment obligations.

Further, in the given case, since the date of payment to be made by the telecom operator to DoT is clearly ascertainable from the relevant documents, invoice shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of section 31(5)(a). As per this section, in cases of continuous supply of services, where the due date of payment is ascertainable from the contract, the invoice shall be issued on or before such due date of payment. Accordingly, tax invoice will be required to be issued in respect of the said supply of services, on or before such due date of payment as per the option exercised by the telecom operator. Thus, in this case, GST would be payable as and when the payments are due or made, whichever is earlier.

It is also clarified that the similar treatment regarding the time of supply, may apply in other cases also where any natural resources are being allocated by the Government to the successful bidder/ purchaser for right to use the said natural resource over a period of time, constituting continuous supply of services, with the option of payments for the said services either through an upfront payment or in deferred periodic installments over the period of time.

Import of services between associated enterprises

In the case of service received from an associated enterprise¹⁵ located outside India, the time of supply will be the date of payment for the service, or the date of entry of the service in the books of account of the recipient, whichever is earlier. The provisions relating to time of supply of services in case of reverse charge can be depicted by way of a diagram given on next page.

(17) A Ltd. provides services to B Ltd. on 10th June. The services are taxable under reverse charge. A Ltd. issues the invoice for the services on 15th June. Payment is debited from the bank account of B Ltd. on 20th June and is recorded in the books of account of B Ltd. on 30th June.

Time of supply of services is 20th June being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date on which payment is recorded in the books of account of recipient of services, date on which payment is debited from the bank account of the recipient of services and date immediately following 60 days since issue of invoice.

(18) A Ltd. provides services to B Ltd. on 10th June. The services are taxable under reverse charge. A Ltd. issues the invoice for the services on 15th June. Payment is debited from the bank account of B Ltd. on 20th September and is recorded in the books of account of B Ltd. on 15th September.

Time of supply of services is 15th August being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date on which payment is recorded in the books of account of recipient of services, date on which payment is debited from the bank account of the recipient of services and date immediately following 60 days since issue of invoice.

(19) A Inc., a foreign company, and B Ltd., an Indian company, are associated enterprises. A Inc. provides technical services to B Ltd. Vide an email dated June 4th, A Inc. informs B Ltd. the cost of technical services provided to it. B Ltd. transfers the payment to A Inc. on 12th August.

Time of supply of services is 12th August being the date of payment as there is no prior entry of the amount in the books of account of B Ltd.

¹⁵ Associated enterprises shall have the same meaning as assigned to it in section 92A of the Income-tax Act, 1961. Broadly, an associated enterprise in relation to another enterprise, means an enterprise which participates, directly or indirectly, or through one or more intermediaries, in the management or control or capital of the other enterprise.

TIME OF SUPPLY OF SERVICES UNDER REVERSE CHARGE

If it is not possible to determine the time of supply through above parameters, THEN TIME OF SUPPLY WILL BE

TIME OF SUPPLY IN CASE OF IMPORT OF SERVICES FROM ASSOCIATED ENTERPRISES

(iii) Time of supply of vouchers exchangeable for services¹⁶ [Section 13(4)]

The term voucher has already been explained under the Heading "Time of Supply of Goods". The time of supply of vouchers that are exchangeable for services is stipulated as:-

- the date of issue of the voucher - if the supply is identifiable at that point, or
- the date of redemption of the voucher - in other cases.

(20) A Ltd., a company providing hospitality services, enters into agreement with B Ltd. by which B Ltd. markets A Ltd.'s hotel rooms and sells coupons / vouchers redeemable for a discount against stay in the hotel.

As the supply against which the voucher will be redeemed is identifiable, the time of supply of the voucher will be its date of issue.

(iv) Time of supply of services in residual cases [Section 13(5)]

If the situation is not covered by any of the provisions discussed above, the time of supply is fixed under sub-section (5) of section 13, in the following manner:

- Date on which periodical return for the period is required to be filed, or
- In any other case, date on which GST is paid.

(v) Time of supply in case of enhancement of value on account of interest/late fee etc. for delayed payment of consideration [Section 13(6)]

The provisions for time of supply in case of addition in value by way of interest, late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration are the same for goods and services.

Section 13(6) prescribes that time of supply in case of addition in value by way of interest/ late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration for a service is the date on which the supplier receives such addition in value.

The provisions relating to time of supply of services as contained in section 13 are summarised in the diagram given on next page.

¹⁶ It may be noted that the Finance Act, 2025 has omitted the provisions relating to time of supply of vouchers. Provisions of the Finance Act, 2025 have not become effective as on the date of printing of this Study Material. Once the said amendment comes into effect, students will no longer be required to study the provisions relating to the time of supply of vouchers.

Provided that the date of receipt of payment shall be the date of credit in the bank account if such credit in the bank account is after four working days from the date of change in the rate of tax.
Explanation — For the purposes of this section, "the date of receipt of payment" shall be the date on which the payment is entered in the books of account of the supplier or the date on which the payment is credited to his bank account, whichever is earlier.

When there is a change in effective rate of tax, we have to identify - the date of change in rate of tax,

the date of supply of goods or services,

the date of issue of invoice, and the date of receipt of payment

The time of supply is determined according to a combination of these dates.

When the rate of tax is changed before, and a transaction of supply of goods or services gets completed in all its documentary and financial aspects, the law makes specific provisions for ascertaining the time of supply of the goods or service for the purpose of payment of tax.

The three markers for identifying time of supply are actual supply, invoice and payment. These can occur in differing sequences. Their occurrence before and after the change of effective rate of tax determines the time of supply of the service.

Of the three markers (supply, invoice, payment), -

- if issue of invoice and receipt of payment are both before the change in rate, the time of supply is the date of the earlier of these two events;
- if supply and issue of invoice are before the change in rate, the date of issue of invoice is the time of supply;
- if supply and receipt of payment are before the change in rate, the date of receipt of payment is the time of supply.
- If supply and receipt of payment are after the change in rate, the date of receipt of payment is the time of supply;
- If issue of invoice and receipt of payment are after the change in rate, the date of the earlier of these two events is the time of supply;
- If supply and issue of invoice are after the change in rate, the date of issue of invoice is the time of supply.

It can be seen from a study of these provisions, that the timing of two out of the three markers (supply, invoice, payment) determines the time of supply. If any two of them occur before the change in rate of tax, the time of supply will fall in the period prior to change in rate of tax i.e., old rate will be applicable. However, if any two of them occur after the change in rate of tax, the time of supply will fall in the period after the change in rate of tax i.e., new rate will be applicable.

Further, it may be noted that for supply of goods by a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims), GST is to be paid on the outward supply of goods on the date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31 - Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017 (Refer point (i) of Analysis under Heading 3: Time of Supply of Goods [Section 12]).

Meaning of “Date of receipt of payment”

Here, “date of receipt of payment” refers to the date on which the payment is entered in the books of accounts of the supplier, or the date on which the payment is credited in his bank account, whichever is earlier.

(21) Mr. A, an interior decorator, designs and renovates the office of XYZ in June. The invoice is to be raised after approval of the work. In the meantime, the rate of tax is changed on 5th July. Invoice is raised and payment made later in July. Here, the time of supply is after the change in rate of tax, though the service was completed prior to the change.

(22) A Ltd. makes custom-made precision tools for which it takes full advance with the purchase order. One such order is received on 13th April and full amount is paid with the order. The tools are manufactured and delivered on 22nd May. Invoice is also issued on the same day. In the meanwhile, rate of tax was increased on the tools of this description from 20th May onwards. Here, increased rate of tax will be applicable as goods are supplied and invoice issued after 20th May.

Date of crediting of payment in bank account to be the “date of receipt of payment” if such crediting takes place after 4 working days of change in rate of tax

Where the payment is credited in the bank account after 4 working days from the date of change in the rate of tax, the date of receipt of payment will be the date of credit in the bank account. In other words, in such a case, the date of recording the payment in the books of account will not be considered as the date of receipt of payment even though if the same precedes the date of crediting of payment in the bank account.

(23) Rate of tax is changed on 10th July. Receipt of payment is recorded in the books of account of the supplier on 8th July. The payment is credited in the supplier's bank account on 15th July. The Bank was open all days between 10th and 15th July. Here, the date of receipt of payment is 15th July.

LET US RECAPITULATE

The provisions relating to time of supply of goods and services can be better understood if the same are studied simultaneously appreciating the similarities and differences between the two. Therefore, such provisions have been summarised by way of a comparison table to help students remember and retain the provisions in a better and effective manner:

TIME OF SUPPLY OF GOODS AND SERVICES IN RESIDUAL CASES

Supply of goods and services in residual cases [Sections 12(5) and 13(5)] i.e where it is not possible to determine the time of supply under the other provisions

- (a) Where a periodical return is required to be filed
 - Due date of filing such return
- (b) Other cases
 - Date of payment of tax

TIME OF SUPPLY FOR ADDITION IN VALUE BY WAY OF INTEREST/ LATE FEE/PENALTY FOR DELAYED PAYMENT OF CONSIDERATION

Addition in value by way of interest, late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration

Time of Supply → Date on which the supplier receives such addition in value

The provisions relating to time of supply of goods falling in the residual category are same as that of the time of supply of services falling in the residual category. Also, the provisions relating to time of supply for addition in value by way of interest, late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration are same for goods and services.

Furthermore, concepts like option of taking invoice date as time of supply in case of receipt of excess payment upto ₹ 1000, meaning of "Date of receipt of payment", significance of words "to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply" are also same for goods and services.

Students may make a note of the above points as it will help them in understanding and remembering the provisions in a better manner.

CHANGE IN RATE OF TAX

In case of change in rate of tax, determination of rate of tax depends upon three events namely,-

- Date of supply of goods or services,
- Date of invoice; and
- Date of receipt of payment

If any two of the above events occur before the change of rate, the time of supply is before the change of rate. If any two of them occur after the change of rate, the time of supply is after the change of rate and the new rate becomes applicable to the supply. However, in case of supply of goods by a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims), GST is to be paid on the date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31 [Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017].

Using this principle, time of supply of services, in case of change in rate of tax, can be determined as under:

Supply	Issue of invoice	Receipt of payment	Time of supply
BEFORE	BEFORE	AFTER	Date of issue of invoice
BEFORE	AFTER	BEFORE	Date of receipt of payment
BEFORE	AFTER	AFTER	Date of issue of invoice or date of receipt of payment, whichever is earlier
AFTER	AFTER	BEFORE	Date of issue of invoice
AFTER	BEFORE	AFTER	Date of receipt of payment
AFTER	BEFORE	BEFORE	Date of issue of invoice or date of receipt of payment, whichever is earlier

The provisions relating to time of supply of vouchers that are exchangeable for goods are same as that of the vouchers that are exchangeable for services. Similarly, the provisions relating to time of supply of goods falling in the residual category are same as that of the time of supply of services falling in the residual category. Also, the provisions relating to time of supply for addition in value by way of interest, late fee/penalty for delayed payment of consideration are same for goods and services.

Furthermore, concepts like meaning of "Date of receipt of payment", significance of words "to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply" are also same for goods and services.

Students may make a note of the above points as it will help them in understanding and remembering the provisions in a better manner.

ANSWERS

1. In terms of section 12(2), the time of supply of goods is the earlier of, the date of issue of invoice/last date on which the invoice is required to be issued or date of receipt of payment. However, Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017 specifies that a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) has to pay GST on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a), i.e. date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31.

As per section 31(1), invoice for supply of goods should be issued before or at the time of removal of goods for supply to the recipient, where supply involves movement of goods. Therefore, time of supply of goods is 23rd June being the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued and not 25th June when the invoice is actually issued.

2. No, the store is not correct in issuing supplementary invoice with revised rate of tax. The revised rate of tax is not applicable to the transaction, as the issuance of invoice as well as receipt of payment occurred before the supply. Therefore, in terms of section 14(b)(ii), the time of supply is earlier of the two events namely, issuance of invoice or receipt of payment, both of which are before the change in rate of tax, and thus, the old rate of tax remains applicable.
3. As issuance of invoice and receipt of payment (entry of the payment in Best Info's accounts) occurred before the change in rate of tax, the time of supply of service by the online portal is earlier of the date of issuance of invoice (21st February) or date of receipt of payment (28th February) i.e., 21st February. This would be so even though the service commences after the change in rate of tax [Section 14(b)(ii)].
4. As per Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017, a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) has to pay GST on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a), i.e. date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31. As per section 31(4), in case of continuous supply of goods, where successive statements of accounts or successive payments are involved, the invoice is issued before or at the time of each such statement is issued or, as the case may be, each such payment is received.

Therefore, invoices should be issued for ₹ 2 lakh each on or before August 5, and September 5, when monthly payments of ₹ 2 lakh are received. Further, invoice should also be issued for differential payment of ₹ 2,56,000 on or before October 3, when statement of account is issued

Thus, assuming that the invoice is issued on August 5, September 5 and October 3, the time of supply for the purpose of payment of tax will be August 5 and September 5 respectively for goods valued at ₹ 2 lakh each and October 3 for the goods valued at ₹ 2,56,000.

5. As per section 13, the time of supply of services is the earlier of the dates arrived at by methods (A) and (B), as follows:

- (A) Date of invoice or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is issued within the time prescribed under section 31;
- (B) Date of provision of service or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is not issued within the time prescribed under section 31

Since in the present case, the construction services are provided under a contract for a period exceeding three months with periodic payment obligations, such services would fall within the ambit of term "continuous supply of services" as defined under section 2(33).

As per section 31(5), in case of continuous supply of services, the invoice should be issued either (i) on/ before the due date of payment or (ii) before/ at the time when the supplier of service receives the payment, if the due date of payment is not known (iii) on/ before the date of completion of the milestone event when the payment is linked to completion of an event [Section 31(5)].

Accordingly, the time of supply with respect to each of the stages of completion is as follows:

Stages of completion	Time of supply
Initial booking	Since invoice is issued within the prescribed time limit, earlier of the date of issue of invoice or date of receipt of payment is the time of supply. However, date of issuance of invoice (02.07.2023) and date of receipt of payment (02.07.2023) are the same. Therefore, time of supply is 02.07.2023.
50%	Since invoice has not been issued on or before the date of 50% completion, earlier of date of provision of service (15.03.2024) or date of receipt of payment (29.03.2024), i.e. 15.03.2024 is the time of supply.
75%	Since invoice has not been issued on or before the date of 75% completion, earlier of date of provision of service (20.06.2024) or date of receipt of payment (23.07.2024), i.e. 20.06.2024 is the time of supply.
100%	Since invoice is issued within the prescribed time limit, earlier of the date of issue of invoice (30.09.2024) or date of receipt of payment (20.09.2024), i.e. 20.09.2024 is the time of supply.

6. In case of services supplied by any person located in a non-taxable territory to any person other than non-taxable online recipient, tax is payable under reverse charge by the person located in the taxable territory [Notification No. 10/2017 IT (R) dated 28.06.2017]. Hence, in the given case, since the business support services are provided by Green Inc (located in non-taxable territory) to Mint Ltd. (person other than non-taxable online recipient and located in taxable territory), tax is payable under reverse charge by Mint Ltd. Further, since Green Inc. is not registered in India, invoice has been issued by recipient, i.e. Mint Industries Ltd.

The time of supply of services taxable under reverse charge is the earlier of the following:

- Date of payment, or
- Date of issue of invoice by the recipient, since invoice is issued by the recipient.

If it is not possible to determine the time of supply by using these parameters, then the time of supply will be the date of entry of the service in the books of account of the recipient of supply.

In view of the aforesaid provisions, the time of supply in each of the given cases will be as under:

CASE	Time of supply
CASE I	The time of supply is earlier of the date of payment, i.e. 22 nd September or date of issue of invoice, i.e. 28 th August, i.e. 28 th August.
CASE II	The time of supply is earlier of the date of payment, i.e. 27 th August or date of issue of invoice, i.e. 28 th August, i.e. 27 th August.

7. Since Kothari Ltd. holds 51% shares of Wilson Inc., Kothari Ltd. and Wilson Inc. are 'associated enterprises' as per section 92A of the Income-tax Act, 1961. As per second proviso to section 13(3), in case of supply by associated enterprises, where the supplier of service is located outside India, the time of supply is the earlier of the following two dates:

Date of entry in the books of account of the recipient of supply [which is Kothari Ltd. in the present case]	30 th September
OR	OR
Date of payment [by Kothari Ltd. in the present case]	23 rd December

Thus, time of supply is 30th September.

8. The explanation to section 14 lays down that the date of receipt of payment is the date on which the payment is entered in the books of account of the supplier or the date on which the payment is credited to his bank account, whichever is earlier. However, the date of receipt of payment is the date of credit in the bank account if such credit in the bank account is after 4 working days from the date of change in the rate of tax.

In the given case, the payment has been credited in the bank account within 4 working days from the date of change in the rate of tax. Therefore, the date of receipt of payment is 15th October being the date of entry in the books of account of the supplier which is earlier than the date of credit of the payment in the bank account (18th October).

As per section 14(a)(iii), in case of change in rate of tax, if the service is supplied before the change in rate of tax and the invoice is issued after the change in rate of tax but the payment is received before such change in rate of tax, the time of supply is the date of receipt of payment.

Therefore, applying the provisions of section 14(a)(iii) to the given case, the time of supply is 15th October.

9. As per Circular No. 11/11/2017 GST dated 20.10.2017, in case of printing of books where only content is supplied by the person who owns the usage rights to the intangible inputs while the physical inputs including paper used for printing belong to the printer, supply of printing [of the content supplied by the recipient of supply] is the principal supply and therefore, such supplies would constitute supply of service.

In case of supply of printed envelopes by the printer using its physical inputs including paper to print the design, logo etc. supplied by the recipient of goods, predominant supply is supply of goods and the supply of printing of the content [supplied by the recipient of supply] is ancillary to the principal supply of goods and therefore, such supplies would constitute supply of goods.

Accordingly, the time of supply of books and envelopes will be governed by sections 12 and 13 respectively.

In terms of section 12(2), the time of supply of goods is the earlier of, the date of issue of invoice/last date on which the invoice is required to be issued or date of receipt of payment. However, Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017 specifies that a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) has to pay GST on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a), i.e. date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31.

As per section 31(1), invoice for supply of goods should be issued before or at the time of removal of goods for supply to the recipient, where supply involves movement of goods. Therefore, in the given case, the last date by which invoice ought to have been issued is 7th April. Thus, the time of supply of envelopes for the purpose of payment of tax is 7th April.

As per section 13, the time of supply of services is the earlier of the dates arrived at by methods (A) and (B), as follows:

- (A) Date of invoice or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the invoice or payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is issued within the time prescribed under section 31;
- (B) Date of provision of service or date of receipt of payment (to the extent the payment covers the supply of services), whichever is earlier, if the invoice is not issued within the time prescribed under section 31.

Since in the given case, invoice for the services is not issued within 30 days, the time of supply for the advance received is the date of receipt of payment, i.e. 20th March being earlier than the date of provision of service. However, the time of supply for the balance payment is the date of provision of service, i.e. 10th April being earlier than the date of receipt of balance payment.

- 10. In terms of section 12(2), the time of supply of goods is the earlier of, the date of issue of invoice/last date on which the invoice is required to be issued or date of receipt of payment. However, Notification No. 66/2017 CT dated 15.11.2017 specifies that a registered person (excluding composition supplier and registered persons making supply of specified actionable claims) has to pay GST on the outward supply of goods at the time of supply as specified in section 12(2)(a), i.e. date of issue of invoice or the last date on which invoice ought to have been issued in terms of section 31.

Also, it is important to note that the relief of not paying GST at the time of receipt of advance is available only in case of supply of goods, the tax on which is payable under forward charge. In case of reverse charge, GST is payable at the time of payment, if payment is recorded/made before receipt of goods (advance payment) [Section 12(3)].

Therefore, time of supply of product 'A', which is taxable under forward charge, is 4th March being the date of issue of invoice. However, time of supply of product 'B', which is taxable under reverse charge, is 17th February to the extent of ₹ 2,00,000 paid as advance being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date of receipt of goods (23rd March), date of payment (17th February) and date immediately following 30 days of issuance of invoice (11th April). For balance ₹ 2,00,000, the time of supply of product 'B' is 23rd March being the earliest of the three stipulated dates namely, date of receipt of goods (23rd March), date of payment (1st April) and date immediately following 30 days of issuance of invoice (11th April).
